Singular Link Invests in NovaLexi, Closing the Company's Pre-Seed II Round

Investment backs NovaLexi's AI-native platform for capturing, protecting, and commercializing innovation and intellectual property

Riyadh, Saudi Arabia — July 1, 2026 — Singular Link today announced a strategic investment in NovaLexi, the AI-native innovation and intellectual property (IP) platform. The investment closes NovaLexi's Pre-Seed II round.

NovaLexi is building an AI-native platform that helps organizations and inventors capture, protect, and commercialize their innovation and intellectual property. By applying AI across the innovation lifecycle — from idea capture through IP strategy and portfolio management — NovaLexi aims to make sophisticated IP capabilities faster, more accessible, and more cost-effective.

With the Pre-Seed II round now closed, NovaLexi plans to use the investment to advance its platform, grow its team, and accelerate its early go-to-market efforts.

"Our mission is to help innovators turn ideas into protected, defensible, and commercially valuable intellectual property," said Mohammad Nusair, Founder and CEO of NovaLexi. "Closing our Pre-Seed II round with Singular Link is a strong vote of confidence in that vision, and it lets us move faster on building an AI-native platform designed for the way innovation happens today."

"NovaLexi is reimagining how innovation and IP are created, protected, and managed in an AI-first world," said Mohammed Al-Maghlouth, CEO of Singular Link. "We were impressed by the team's vision and early momentum, and we are proud to back them as they close this round and move into their next stage of growth."
